Woman Dies In '34' Crash

Funeral Services Held at Rosiclare Today for Mrs. Kelly Seiner, 26

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Irma Berlene Seiner, 26-year-old Hardin county mother killed instantly Saturday afternoon when the car she was driving overturned on Route 34 at the Mitchellville bridge six miles south of Harrisburg.

The funeral was held at 1 p. m. at the General Baptist church in Rosiclare with the Rev. Harley Rose conducting the service. Burial was in Fluorine cemetery near Rosiclare.

Coroner James Thornton said he would conduct an inquest at seven o'clock tonight at the court house in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Seiner lived in Hicks Branch community in Hardin county with her husband, Kelly Seiner, and their five-year-old son, Danny. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fricker, who reside in nearby Karbers Ridge.

State and Harrisburg city police who investigated said that Mrs. Seiner was driving alone toward Harrisburg early Saturday afternoon when the accident occurred. Their investigation showed she lost control of the automobile, which first struck a guard rail on the left side of the road. The auto then travelled up the road, nearly sideways, for about 100 yards, then struck the right guard rail.

Mrs. Seiner was thrown from the car at this point and the car overturned on her, officers stated. The car was demolished.

An ambulance from the Gibbons funeral home was called and the body was brought here. It was later moved to the Hosick funeral home in Rosiclare.

Altire First at Scene
Officers said nobody saw the crash. Ray Altire of Harrisburg was the first motorist at the scene. He said the auto was resting on its top, the wheels still spinning, when he arrived.

An uncle and aunt of Mrs. Seiner, Clarence Fricker and Mrs. Hobart Dunn, reside in Harrisburg. Mr. Fricker said he understood Mr. Seiner was at his father-in-law's house, helping with the remodeling of the house when the crash occurred. The little boy was there, too. Mr. Fricker said that apparently Mrs. Seiner was driving to Harrisburg to secure something the men needed when the crash occurred.

Arlie Pate Fulfills Promise To Take His Mother to Church

By SAM HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent
CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—Arlie Pate today prepared to celebrate his first Christmas outside Communist China in six years by trimming a tree he cut down himself on his parents' farm.

He marked another change in his way of life Sunday by fulfilling a promise to take his mother to church. The last time he stepped into a church was before he was captured by the Chinese in Korea, Dec. 1, 1950, he said.

Pate refused to return to the United States when the Korean War ended and went to work as a $42-a-month lathe operator in a Tsinan, China, paper factory. He later changed his mind and flew back with another turncoat earlier this month.

The former soldier paused outside the tiny southern Illinois church when services ended yesterday and told a United Press reporter what life was like behind the Bamboo Curtain.

He said the Chinese standard of living improved during the years he worked in the paper mill, but still did not approach American levels.

When Pate told his Chinese co-workers his parents owned a 78-acre farm in Illinois, he said they thought he was lying. Few Chinese farmers till more than one or two acres.

Pate spent only 15 cents per month of his payroll for housing provided by the government. He recalled most of his income went for food and cigarettes. The most expensive cigarettes cost about $1.20.

The 25-year-old youth, who objects to being called a turncoat, believes he and his roommate, James G. Venaris of Hawthorne, Calif., were closely watched during their leisure hours.

They "would hear about it next day at the factory" if they drank too much or became too boisterous during an evening of revelry in the village.

He said he heard of no uprisings by Chinese against the government during his stay in the country. He said the Communists used a form of public chastisement for those who stepped out of line which seemed to have considerable effect.

Ira E. Skaggs, 77, Dies; Rites Tuesday 2 p. m.

Ira Ellis Skaggs, founder of Skaggs Electric Co. in 1904, died at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Good Shepherd nursing home in Galatia at the age of 77. His home was at 200 North Jackson. He had been bedfast for the past six years.

Mr. Skaggs was born in Harrisburg May 15, 1879, the son of William Thomas Skaggs, and on March 20, 1900, he was married to the former Maude Reed who passed away in 1929.

He was a resident of Harrisburg all his life and was quite active in politics in his younger years. He was a member of the First Baptist church and of the Masonic lodge.

Two children survive: Morris Skaggs and Mrs. Mary Dora McGowan who are both associated with Skaggs Electric Co. on North Vine street. Three children, Will Reed Skaggs, Zella and Thomas Skaggs, preceded him in death. Also surviving are five grandchildren.

The body lies in state at the Gibbons funeral chapel where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. R. J. Morman will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

12 Killed, Baby Injured When Auto Hits Train

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—Twelve persons were killed and a baby critically injured early today when their car struck the Chicago-bound Southern Pacific Golden State Limited, police reported.

Southern Pacific reported that none of the passengers on the train was injured. A Southern Pacific spokesman said the train's engineer wasn't aware of the accident until a bumper from the wrecked car fell off the engine unit several hundred yards down the tracks.

Officers said wreckage of the car was scattered along the tracks. They said the 12 persons were killed instantly and the small child was found underneath the tangled wreckage.

Police said the accident took place at an unguarded crossing as the train was pulling into Phoenix. Several of the victims were believed to have been farm workers of Mexican descent.

"It was terrible," a police officer at the scene said. "The bodies were a mess and bits of wreckage were everywhere. The only identification we could find left in one piece was a torn California license plate."

Officers said the crossing only has a standard sign warning and no signals. The accident occurred at 2:10 a. m. EST and within minutes hundreds of spectators jammed the area.

Police combined with sheriff's deputies held the crowd back while the bodies were removed. Following the accident the train proceeded into the Phoenix station.

British, French Slow Evacuation From Port Said

Hold Positions In Fear of New Egyptian Attacks

PORT SAID, Egypt (UP)—British and French slowed their evacuation of Port Said today to recover from a weekend of violence in which a "merciless" attack on Egyptian suicide commandos killed at least 100 persons.

The United Nations Emergency Forces (UNEF) took over most of Port Said but some 5,000 heavily armed Britons and 2,000 French troops held strong positions in the debarkation area in fear of new reprisal attacks by the Egyptians.

The British reported a series of 26 raids by Egyptian commandos during the past few days, climaxed by the ambush slaying of a British major. The attack by British tanks and infantrymen Saturday night and early Sunday followed the latest incident.

The Anglo-French troops spent the night inside a barbed wire perimeter encircling the European quarter of the port area to prevent a recurrence of attacks. U.N. patrols in white jeeps moved through the tense city.

Troops Fired On
Danish, Swedish and Norwegian troops were fired on this weekend and returned the fire, but U.N. officials said they believed the U.N. men were mistaken for British despite their blue helmets and white jeeps. No casualties were reported in these incidents.

U.N. officials predicted the Anglo-French troops would pull out within 48 hours with full equipment. Already some 1,800 UNEF troops are in Port Said with 800 Egyptian police. Another 700 members of the UNEF are to come in this week and U.N. officials believed this was enough to restore order.

There were protests on all sides. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, head of the UNEF, protested to Cairo. The British and French protested to the United Nations.

Free Parking Meters Abused by Uptown Workers

Chief of Police Lane said he might have to give some parking tickets between now and Christmas after all.

He doesn't intend to give tickets to cars of shoppers, he said, but added that people who work uptown have taken over the parking spaces that were intended for shoppers.

"There are evidences all over the uptown area of people employed uptown taking over the metered areas early and keeping their automobiles there all day," he stated. "When Police Commissioner Hine and I announced a few days ago that we were going to discontinue giving parking tickets until after Christmas, we intended that the spaces to be used by shoppers."

"But," he continued, "this gesture has been abused to such an extent that if it doesn't stop we'll put tickets on cars where we know the owners are working uptown."

Police Investigate Window Breaking

Police today were investigating cases of windows being broken in houses in the city, both with rocks and air rifles. They reported boys caught who did such acts would be punished.

Judge Byron O. House of Nashville is GOP Nominee for Illinois Supreme Court

Circuit Judge Byron O. House of Nashville, Ill., was named without opposition as Republican nominee for supreme court at a GOP Judicial convention held Saturday morning at the Mt. Vernon court house.

Democrats were meeting at Belleville this afternoon to choose a candidate.

The two nominees will be pitted against each other in a special election Feb. 25 to name a supreme court justice for the First Illinois district to fill the vacancy created by the death of Justice Ralph Maxwell Aug. 29.

Pettyon Kuncie of Murphysboro was permanent chairman of the Republican convention and Atty. Scerial Thompson of Harrisburg was permanent secretary.

When the roll call of counties for nominations began, Alexander county yielded to St. Clair, and Circuit Judge Quentin Spivey of that county, who grew up in Eldorado, made the nominating speech for Judge House.

The speech seconding the nomination was made by Atty. Charles H. Thompson of Harrisburg, former supreme court justice from the district.

Atty. George B. Lee of Harrisburg was a member of the Resolutions committee that presented a resolution of condolence for the late Judge Maxwell, which was passed by the convention.

Between 500 and 600 delegates

Judge Byron O. House

and alternate delegates were present.

Judge House, 54 years old, has lived in Nashville all but the first year of his life. His law degree was obtained at the University of Illinois in 1926. He went into law practice with his father, the late H. H. House, who died in 1944, and soon afterwards he was joined in partnership with Wilbert J. Hohlt, continuing under the law firm name, House and House.

He was appointed circuit judge July 9, 1956, to fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Judge William G. Juergens to the federal bench.

Real Election of President Today By Electors in State Capitols

WASHINGTON (UP)—The voters may think they elected the president and vice president on Nov. 6, but the real election was taking place today.

In state capitols across the land, a total of 531 people known as presidential electors gathered to cast ballots which formally elect the nation's two highest officials.

The electors will, as custom dictates, vote the way the majority of people in their respective states did in the November General Election, so that the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket still will be the winner. The results almost certainly will be:

Eisenhower-Nixon, 457 electoral votes.

Stevenson-Kefauver, 74 electoral votes.

Actually, however, the electors could ignore the general election results and vote any way they please. Under the Constitution, they are free agents with full authority to make independent choices.

Ratify Popular Vote
The framers of the Constitution originally intended the electors' vote to be the one that really counted. But, as our political system developed in practice, the popular vote has become the decisive one and the electors merely ratify it in a kind of anti-climax.

The election is not official, however, until the electors go through

Charles Pierson, 80, Dies After Lingerin Illness

Charles Pierson, 80, died at his residence, 128 West Homer, Sunday at 9:10 a. m. following a lingering illness of three years. He was a retired hoisting engineer for the O'Gara Coal Co.

He was the son of the late William and Mary Jane Pierson and was born in Pierson community Feb. 29, 1876. On Dec. 5, 1897, he was united in marriage to the former Cora Eva Russell who preceded him in death May 6, 1944.

Tentative funeral arrangements are for Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the chapel of Gaskins funeral home with the Rev. J. D. McCarty officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

He is survived by five children: Mrs. Charles (Beulah) Dunford, Thompsonville, William Lloyd Pierson, Pontiac, Mich., Charles A. Pierson, Harrisburg, Thomas E. Pierson, Harrisburg, Mrs. Bill (Rosalie) Norman, Harrisburg; one brother, Tom Pierson, Harrisburg; 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Russia Charges U. S. Jets Fly Over Territory

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States today studied a Russian protest that three U. S. Air Force reconnaissance planes violated Soviet air space south of Vladivostok last week.

The Soviet government announced Sunday that S. Striganov, acting Soviet charge d'affaires in the United States, delivered the protest note Saturday. The State Department confirmed receipt of the protest but would not comment on it.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the Far East Air Forces said the command "had no knowledge" of a flight of three B57 jet bombers. "This headquarters has no knowledge of such a flight," a FEAF spokesman said flatly.

The note complained that three American jets of the B57 type flew into Soviet territory on a reconnaissance mission Dec. 11. It implied a threat of action against any future intrusions.

"The Soviet government deems it necessary to state that in the event of a recurrence of the violation of the air space of the USSR by American aircraft, responsibility for the consequences of such violation will rest squarely on the government of the U. S. A.," the note warned.

Good weather in the Japanese Sea area precluded the possibility that the U. S. planes were lost and crossed into Soviet territory accidentally, the note said.

The alleged intrusion occurred in the general area where other air incidents have taken place between American and Soviet craft, including the shooting down of several U. S. planes.

Will Confer Today, Tonight In Seclusion

Radio-TV Address Tuesday Night by Indian Leader

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India arrived at Mr. Eisenhower's farm here today for informal man-to-man talks on a broad range of problems.

They drove here from Washington in a White House limousine with an escort of Secret Service guards, newspaper reporters and photographers.

Shortly before 10 a. m. CST, the motorcade from the White House pulled slowly into the well kept grounds of the spacious Eisenhower farm where the chief executive and Nehru will spend today and tonight in seclusion. They will return to Washington Tuesday.

The nine-car caravan made the trip from Washington in just under two hours.

President Eisenhower, in a big government limousine, drove from the White House to Blair House—the official guest house just across Pennsylvania Avenue—and picked up Nehru at 9 a. m. Nehru emerged from Blair House just as the President drove up.

The President got out of the car to welcome Nehru and shake hands with him. They were due to reach the Gettysburg farm about 11 a. m.

There, away from the pressures and pomp which customarily surround a visit of the head of a foreign government to Washington, they will exchange views on such subjects as the Hungarian crisis, the Middle East dispute, U. S. recognition of Red China, U. S. military alliances, colonialism and disarmament.

Diplomats of both countries hope the President and Nehru, heads of the world's two largest democracies, can narrow some of the differences that have separated their nations on a number of international issues. Some look for a new U. S.-Indian understanding.

Nehru, his visit to the United States long delayed by the President's illness of last summer, arrived in Washington aboard the President's personal plane Sunday afternoon. In setting foot on American soil for only the second time, he said that he considered it a privilege to confer with Mr. Eisenhower "at this rather important and even, perhaps, critical moment in history."

He drove immediately from the airport to the White House for lunch with the President. Mr. Eisenhower almost ran down the White House steps to greet Nehru and his daughter, Indira Gandhi.

"This is an event to which I have long looked forward," the President said. "It is a privilege and an honor to welcome you to this land—and to this house."

It was the first face-to-face meeting between the two leaders since 1949 when Nehru received an honorary degree at Columbia University, which Mr. Eisenhower then headed.

After lunch with the President, the Indian prime minister conferred with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for more than an hour, attended a reception at the Indian Embassy and dined Sunday night with Chief Justice Earl Warren.

He will return to Washington from Gettysburg Tuesday and make a nationwide radio-TV address at 11:15 p. m. EST. He will go to New York on Thursday and to Canada on Friday.

McCarthy Another Test

In the congressional elections of 1958, the Republican party will have still another opportunity to test its standing with the people without the help of President Eisenhower's name on the ticket.

The preliminary findings from the 1956 returns suggested that, generally, those Republicans fared best who chose to identify themselves with the President's policies.

While a dozen or so Democrats were unseating GOP congressmen west of the Mississippi, 10 Republicans knocked off incumbent Democrats east of that line. Most of the winners were in the East, where the Eisenhower program tends to get heavier GOP support.

There were exceptions. In Maine, a Democrat won a House seat and another almost did. In Pennsylvania, Sen. James Duff, a faithful Ike man, went down. But the patterns held fairly well.

Now Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin has announced for re-election in 1958 on an anti-United Nations program which puts him at far pole from the President. His public utterances suggest his opposition to Ike will be broad.

It will be very interesting to see, in the light of the 1956 outcome, how the senator makes out when the 1958 test is at hand.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Democrats Get Tough With Each Other As Democratic Club Opens: George Meany
Had Triumphant Tour Through Latin America; He Helped Block Communism In Latin Labor Ranks.

WASHINGTON. — Two tough and effective battlers for Adlai Stevenson got tough with each other at the opening of the new Democratic club in Washington, D. C.

For some time the Republicans have had a private club across the street from the old House of office building on Capitol Hill, but the Democrats have been club-less. The Democratic women have had a most active and enterprising club for years; so finally Charley Murphy, former counsel to Harry Truman, sparked a Democratic men's club in the Hamilton hotel.

As it opened, Steve Spingarn, able ex-commissioner of the Federal Trade Commission, accosted Joe Rauh, head of Americans for Democratic Action.

"I didn't know you were a Democrat," boomed Steve. He then proceeded to kid Joe about ADA.

"I'm forming an organization called NADA—no ADA," teased Spingarn. He was joking, but Rauh took him seriously.

"You dirty yellow"
he shot back and invited Spingarn into the alley. He kept calling him names and challenging him to fight.

Spingarn, who weighs 250 pounds, tried to soothe Rauh, but finally accepted the invitation.

"All right, come on!" he agreed.

A friend intervened. "Democrats are red-blooded enough without you two staging a demonstration," he said as the couple cooled off.

REFUGEE REPORTS

President Eisenhower gave able Tracy Voorhees a personal pep talk about handling Hungarian refugees. Ike urged Voorhees, a Truman appointee as assistant secretary of the army, to do a dramatic job of showing the world how America helps Hungarians while Russia slaughters them . . . Ike also expressed the conviction that private enterprise applies to charitable activity. He hopes private charities will take the lead in helping displaced Hungarians . . . Voorhees met with Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., three times to iron out refugee problems. Hoover agreed that the fleeing Hungarians must be moved out of Austria at the greatest possible speed to hurry the movement. Hoover agreed to screen them after their arrival in America. . . . He also agreed they should be free to go anywhere in the country . . .
Ike's wartime subordinate, four-star Gen. "Lightning Joe" Collins, former Army chief, has patriotically volunteered to work full time to help the refugees . . .
General Collins is the man who took Cherbourg with such lightning speed during the Normandy invasion . . . If any Hungarian refugees arrive in your community, greet them with "Ishten Hos-ta!" That's phonetic Hungarian for "welcome!"

GEORGE MEANY ABROAD

The American embassy in Lima, Peru, is an imposing building which many Peruvians would like to enter, but few do. The elite of Peruvian society and government circles are invited to its receptions. Few labor leaders have passed through its portals in previous years.

To the American embassy the other day came George Meany famed North American labor leader, president of the AFL-CIO.
Charge D'Affaires Clare H. Tim-berlake gave a reception for him.
To that reception came as an honored guest the head of the Domestic Servants Union of Peru.

She had formerly worked as a cook for the American embassy.
The incident illustrated the little-noticed but important job labor leader Meany did for the U.
S. A. during his recent trip through Latin America. What he did was to make Latin American labor leaders and workers realize the United States is not a country of capitalists, but a nation where labor is highly respected.

Meany was the first top-rank U.

S. labor leader to tour Latin America on a good-will mission, and the response was overwhelming. Workers turned out by the thousands to greet a man who, though a workers' representative, was important enough to merit diplomatic receptions at U. S. embassies and official appointments with presidents and foreign ministers.

Thanks to the Soviet blood-bath in Hungary, Meany let loose some effective ammunition against communism in lands where resistance to communism by labor unions has sometimes flagged.

Coming from Meany, it had far more impact than if it had come from an American diplomat.

In Montevideo, Meany undid some of the harm done to U. S. relations with Uruguay when Eisenhower hiked the tariff on Urugu-ayan wool and when Secretary Benson "dumped" U. S. wheat surpluses in Brazil. Uruguay normally sells wheat to Brazil and, like the U. S., has a prospective surplus.

Despite the freeze in Uruguayan feeling toward the U. S., Meany got a rousing welcome from the Confederation of Urugu-ayan Trade Unions, and Urugu-ayan trade unionists joined hands with Meany in a solemn pledge against all dictatorships.

Note — Meany was accompanied on his good-will tour by Dave Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers and O. A.
Knight of the Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Energy Workers, both vice presidents of the AFL-CIO.

ENVOY TO PHILIPPINES

It isn't often that leaders of a foreign government get out and actively pitch for the appointment of an American ambassador, but that's what's happening today regarding the prospective appointment of James M. Langley as envoy to the Philippines.

With the death of Ambassador Albert Nufer, several high-ranking Filipinos are pushing for Langley, the Concord, N. H., publisher who served as chairman of the U. S. delegation on American-Philippine Trade Negotiations in 1954. It looks as if Langley would be appointed.

The need of a friendly, influential ambassador to the Philippines right now is urgent for the most important military bases the United States has in the Far East are snarled in a diplomatic hassle which could mean the withdrawal of American forces altogether.

In view of the long friendship between the United States and the Philippines, and the fact that the future independence of the vast island chain largely depends on the U. S. Navy, such a withdrawal might have tragic consequences.
Yet right now, American-Philippine negotiations for the future of these bases have reached an alarming deadlock, with the Philippine government wanting the right to control the bases in time of war.

This the United States has refused to grant.

Its Other Name

"Goobar" is another name for the peanut in the South. The word is a corruption of the Conintroduced into the South by Ne-

Fanatic Fires Four Churches

The first of the early morning fires was at the 62-year-old First Methodist Church, the third oldest church of that denomination in the United States. Officials estimated $200,000 damage to the historic edifice in the heart of the downtown business district. Two other churches, the State Street Methodist Church and the Church of the Open Bible, were ignited within three blocks of the first fire. They suffered minor damage. In Memoriam

In loving memory of our brother, Ray Staley, who passed away Dec. 16, 1955:
You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last

We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more,

No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by his sisters, Rachel and Mary, and brother, Roy. 144-1

Register Carrier One of Winners in Good Luck Contest

Modeene Melton of 9 West Raymond street was among the prize winners in the second annual Good Luck Newspaperboy contest sponsored by Lever Brothers Company. Modeene's award was a camera with flash attachment.

Approximately 183,000 newspaperboys, representing 500 newspapers, participated in the eight-week contest last spring. The youngsters competed for prizes by asking their customers to save the "clover stamps" from packages of Good Luck margarine.

The enterprising carrier boys and girls who collected enough clovers to earn any of the 52 deluxe prizes—ranging from television sets and bicycles to encyclopedias and movie cameras—made their selections from a master list. Some of the youngsters exhibited exceptional ingenuity by qualifying for as many as six or seven different prizes.

Newspaperboys who collected 800 or more clovers also competed for $1000 college scholarships by submitting an essay of 250 words or less on the subject, "Why I Want to Go to College." The prize-winning entrants, each receiving a $1000 scholarship to the U. S. college or university of his choice, are as follows:

Three Children Killed in Fire

GRACEVILLE, Minn. — Three children were killed Sunday night when flames destroyed their home while their parents were away.

The victims, Joyce Ammerman, 11, her sister, Gail, 6 and their brother, Wayne, 3, were left in charge of a baby sitter who escaped unharmed. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman, had traveled to Fargo, N. D., about 100 miles away.

Police Chief John Boyle said the house was destroyed. He said firemen made a frantic attempt to save the children.

Both rabbits and squirrels are classified as rodents.

Illinois Electors Cast Ballots in State Senate

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois' 27 members of the electoral college, along with their colleagues all over the nation, today make President Eisenhower's election official.

The Illinois electors meet in the State Senate chambers here at 10 a. m. to cast the state's electoral vote.

They are not bound to vote for Mr. Eisenhower, but it would be a major surprise if there were any defections. The President carried Illinois on Nov. 6 by a whopping majority of 847,645.

The electors, for the most part long-time Republican workers, receive no pay. They are compensated only for travel, at the rate of $3 for every 20 miles they travel. Downstate electors include Charles E. Feirich, Carbondale, and T. O. Mathews, Fairfield.

Employment At Record High

CHICAGO (AP) — Non-farm employment set a record in Illinois for the second straight month, the State Labor Department has announced.

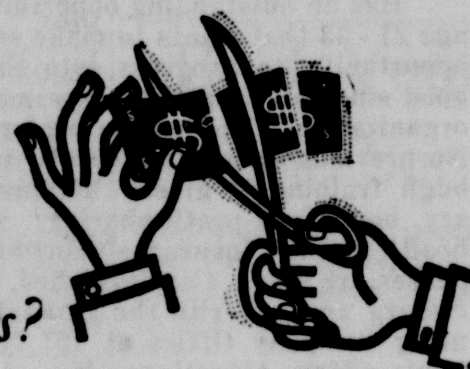

State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins said employment in mid-November was 3,492,800 as compared with 3,490,700 in mid-October.

The increase was attributed to seasonal gains in retail trades, chiefly stores preparing for the Christmas rush. Government employment also showed a slight increase.

Manufacturing employment declined, however, with about 9,000 fewer persons employed in manufacturing in mid-November this year than in 1955.

Cummins said manufacturing workers' earnings also decreased somewhat, although the national average is up. The average for Illinois was $87.79 per week, or 39 cents per week less than last year at that time.

Russia Rejects U. S. Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia today flatly rejected a U. S. protest against the recent stationing of Soviet tanks in front of the American legation in Budapest.

Soviet Charge d'Affaires Sergei R. Striganov said the American complaint of Dec. 6 was "an unjustified attempt to interfere in the relations between the U. S. S. R. and the Hungarian peoples republic."

He also charged that the Hungarian revolt "was stimulated from the outside." But he did not directly accuse the United States of stirring it up.

The United States had complained that Russia posted tanks before the American legation in Budapest during a demonstration in the streets of the Hungarian capital.

4.2 Million Tons Coal Produced in State in November

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois coal production for November totaled 4,236,196 tons, a drop of 250,518 tons from October, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today.

However, November production was 33,679 tons greater than November, 1955.

Four persons were killed and 83 injured in mining accidents during November, with the fatalities occurring in Christian, Saline, Madison and Williamson counties.

The November deaths brought the totals for the year to 19, with 947 injured.

The November production was reported by 148 mines in 33 counties, which employed a total of 12,185 miners. There were 11,691 men working in October.

Williamson County was the top producer with 574,963 tons followed by Fulton with 515,739 and Christian with 458,382 tons.

Two Johnston City Boys Injured by Borrowed Shotgun

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (AP) — Two Johnston City teen-agers were injured Sunday by a borrowed shotgun.

Authorities said Donald Cobb had borrowed the pump shotgun to go rabbit hunting. While in the field, he had loaned it to a hunting companion, Donald Gaddis. A shell exploded while Gaddis was loading or unloading it, authorities said, inflicting a laceration above his hairline.

Cobb then decided to take the borrowed gun home. He started to unload it before going through town and it blew up again. He was hit on the forehead and face by grass from the shell and by pellets.

The boys were taken to doctors for treatment.

Jilted Graduate Student Kills Coed Girl Friend, Then Shoots Himself

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A "jilted" graduate student shot and killed his coed girl friend Sunday night in the hall of her rooming house near Mount Mary College, and then took his life with a bullet in the temple.

The coed's landlady watched helplessly.

The victims in the murder-suicide were identified as Miss

Barbara Skalitsky, 21, a senior from Waterloo, Wis., and Eugene Levitt, 24, of New York, a student at the University of Wisconsin.

The coed's landlady, Miss Anna Jurishica, told police the girl ran into the house screaming, with Levitt following closely behind. Miss Jurishica said Levitt fired two shots at the girl, striking her in the head. The landlady then said Levitt told her to "stay out of it" and shot himself in the temple.

Miss Jurishica said the slain girl had been living with her since September. She said she had never seen Levitt before.

However, police said the couple had dated frequently up until last August.

The Waterloo police chief, a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Skalitsky, told Milwaukee authorities that the girl tried to "drop" Levitt last summer and there had been "trouble" then about it.

Miss Jurishica said her roomer had dated seldom since September, going "occasionally to special school functions" at Mount Mary. Miss Skalitsky was called "a good girl" by her landlady. She said the girl had held a part-time job near the college on Milwaukee's west side.

89 Korean War Orphans Arrive for New Homes in U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eighty-nine Korean War orphans headed for new homes in the United States today in time to spend their first Christmas with their new fathers and mothers.

The orphans arrived here today aboard an airliner chartered by Oregon farmer Harry Holt, whose hobby it is to find new parents for Korean orphans. He has adopted eight himself.

The "Diaper Special" was Holt's biggest orphan airlift so far.

The orphans, who range in age from 6 months to 4 years, were accompanied by 14 attendants and 4 stewardesses.

New foster parents were mainly volunteers from various religious groups.

taken to the center of the village and scolded for his misdeeds before a large portion of the community's population. Pate said the offender would suffer such loss of face among his neighbors it was considered worse than a beating.

For a time, Pate considered marrying a Chinese girl as did a number of other Americans who went over to the Chinese. When he decided, instead, to return to his family, he said the Chinese let him go without placing obstacles in his way.

Pate said his comrade, Venaris, planned to marry a Chinese girl in February. Three other Americans in the village already had married local girls when Pate left.

He identified them as Lowell Skinner, Akron, Albert Belhomme, Pennsylvania, and Howard Adams, Texas.

Illinois Prairie Land Was Cheap In the 1820s

CARBONDALE, Ill. — One-half of the cost of an acre of good central Illinois prairie farm land today would have been enough for a new settler in the 1820s to buy, improve and put into cultivation a 40-acre farm on virgin prairie land. Statistics quoted in a descriptive sketch of "Illinois in 1837," a book published that year by S. August Mitchell, leads to that comparison. The volume, containing much early Illinois historical and geographical information and suggestions to encourage migrants to settle in the prairie lands of the state, has been presented to the Southern Illinois University library by Joseph Adams, McLeansboro.

In discussing the value of extensive Illinois prairie land for agriculture, the author quotes from Dr. Beck's Gazetteer of Missouri, published in 1823. A settler buying from the government domain could get 40 acres for $50. Cost of breaking up the prairie land for cultivation was $1.50 to $2 per acre, and fencing 40 acres eight rails high with stake and rider would require 6,000 rails and stakes, costing $100 total. A cabin would add another $20, bringing the total farm outlay to $250.

For the benefit of would-be settlers, the author painted glowing word pictures of rich Illinois prairies, comparatively free of timber except along streams and in low areas. This reduced considerably the cost of putting land into cultivation, he pointed out. In many instances a single crop of wheat would pay for the land, fencing, cultivation, harvesting and marketing of the crop. A considerable traffic in trading improved land already was underway in settled areas of the state. The first half of the volume is devoted to a general sketch of the state. The last half gives sketches of the state's 70 organized counties, its principal cities, and letters from travelers.

Winged Performance and a Floating Ride make The Big M the road-hungriest car ever built LARGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Mercury is now over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Wheelbase is a big 122 inches. Inside there are inches more headroom, leg room—as much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars.

3-WAY POWER CHOICE

New 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8
Wait till you feel its silk-and-dynamite performance! Compression ratio is a power-boosting 9.75 to 1. Displacement is a mile-shrinking 368 cubic inches. Torque is a mountain-hungry 405 lb-ft. Optional on all Montclair and Monterey.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 with Power-Booster Fan
This great new engine features a revolutionary Mercury "first" in the Montclair Series. The engine fan coasts when not needed for cooling. You save horsepower other cars waste. Engine sound is reduced, you enjoy a far quieter ride.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8
Dream-car performance in the Monterey Series, Mercury's lowest priced line! Features another Mercury "first" which you get at no extra cost on all big M engines for '57—a Thermo-matic Carburetor. It automatically controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—helps keep it uniform summer and winter. Engine starting is easier, usable power and economy are increased.

YEAR'S MOST IMPORTANT RIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Exclusive Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers—The first shock absorbers in the industry to give such amazing bump-smothering control on rough roads without sacrificing a soft, satin-smooth ride on average roads. They are teamed with Mercury's new improved springing action. Special high-speed valves built into the shock absorbers act as hydraulic cushions when there are rapid changes between bumps and ruts. Any bounce or rebound is controlled as if by a giant hand.

New Swept-Back Ball-Joint Front Suspension—Mercury introduces a new improved version of its famous suspension system—the finest, most advanced ball-joint front suspension on the market today. Because of the new swept-back design, the front wheels are now, in effect, pulled gently over bumps, rather than pushed into them. The benefits: easier handling, more responsive steering.

New balanced weight distribution greatly reduces nose dipping on sudden stops and lurching on fast starts. Mercury's extra weight, length, width, and wheelbase also add greatly to stability.

New road-hugging center of gravity—Everything is lower. Car height, passenger compartment, frame, and rear axle. You enjoy an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves.

You've got to feel Mercury's Floating Ride to believe it. We invite you to do just that, today, at our showroom.

XXX
Dan slammed into a table, hung balanced a moment and then the whole thing tipped over, spilling him to the floor and tangling him with a chair.

Dan desperately grabbed the fallen chair, whipped it about and jabbed up with it, the four legs pointing at George. The chair struck the man in the pit of the stomach and his stride faltered. It was enough for Dan to roll fast to one side and come to his feet.

But now he was trapped, his only retreat around the bar, or along the wall the other way. He tried that but George, eyes narrow and wicked, cut him off.

Dan's lips flattened and he set himself, suddenly advancing, his fists flailing, each blow landing. They struck on mouth, nose, jaw and eyes. George was blinded and his advance faltered. Dan swung harder. He heard George grunt and wince.

Dan swung for the rocky chin and the blow connected. His knuckles cracked but George did not go down. His taloned fingers caught Dan's sleeve and instantly Dan was jerked forward.

Dan felt the pressure increase on his back and around his ribs. He was half lifted from his feet and the pressure was a torture, steadily increasing. He felt his strength flow out and he knew that within a matter of seconds George would kill him.

He clawed his fingers into the bristly hair. Pain hazed his eyes and he was hardly aware of the girl who had suddenly appeared beside them, nor did he really hear her voice, though it shrilled through the room, time and again, calling George's name.

Suddenly the killing pressure was gone as George straightened and then roughly cast Dan aside.

George stood, chest heaving, head hung forward, but his murky eyes now watched Vivian McLearn. He swiped the back of his hands across his slack lips. Vivian spoke soothingly.

"What are you doing, George? You've lost your head."

Dan painfully rolled over on his side and pushed himself up with his hands, head hanging as he still fought for breath. Vivian gave her full attention to the blacksmith. She smiled and extended her hand.

"You'd better go home, George. You've had too much. Would you like for me to go with you?"

He blinked, frowned to focus her. "Would you? With me?"

"Sure, George. You've never asked me. Here, take my hand."

He stared at the slender hand she extended, afraid to touch it. Then, slowly, he lifted his own and his fingers convulsively tightened around hers. Vivian winced and covered it with a smile.

The two of them circled the end of the bar and the outlaws moved back to give them room. Vause whistled.

"She stopped it! There's a woman I'd sure like to have around."

George halted in mid-stride and he dropped Vivian's hand. She instantly wheeled toward him but George had already lunged toward the outlaw, so fast that Vause was caught unaware and could not avoid the attack. His hand dropped to his gun, but George's powerful grip tied the man's arms to his side and he was helpless.

Dan tried to get to his feet and stop this new attack. Vivian reached for George's arms, again screaming his name. Tex and Juarez tried to break the giant's grip but could not and Vause's face writhed in pain as the pressure slowly bent him back. Then Tex stepped back, his hand blurred.

The shot roared and bounced in the room. George jerked, head snapping back. For a long second he held Vause in the vise of his arms and the muscles spasmodically bunched. Vause screamed in agony, and then George's arms fell away and the giant body toppled sideways to the floor. One leg bent slightly and then fell flaccid.

Vause had also fallen and he gasped on the floor beside the dead man. Dan had frozen, still half crouched and Vivian stood staring at the dead man, her face paling. No one moved and Tex slowly lifted the gun and blew at the muzzle. Vivian's head jerked up, her eyes ablaze.

"Always the killer," she said coldly. "Always the brave man with the gun, especially when you can shoot from the back. You could have used the barrel to knock him out, but not Tex Darrow. He likes to see men die."

Tex stiffened and his face suffused. His left hand whipped up and across her face.

Dan hardly realized what he did. He came lunging forward and then found himself facing Jack Bruhn, who had stepped between the two men. Jack's big hand thrust Dan back and he wheeled to face Tex.

"Put up the gun, Tex. There's been enough killing in this town. Apologize to the lady."

Tex stared at Jack, face still twisted with fury and anger. He slowly straightened, licking his lips, and his glance whipped beyond Jack to Pace Odum. Pace leaned against the bar, watching, red lips parted, a peculiar glitter in his eyes. He caught Darrow's glance and Pace slowly smiled.

Suddenly Darrow's gun whipped up and the long tongue of flame leapt from the muzzle toward Bruhn. The slug smashed into the broad chest and Bruhn's body jerked. His eyes snapped wide open in stunned surprise. His lips parted and his hand came halfway up as though to touch his chest.

Then he fell and the floor trembled with the impact of the big body.

Aaron Crowned National League Batting Champion

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves was officially crowned the National League's new batting champion today despite a .328 average that was the lowest to win the title in 37 years.

The Braves' 22-year old batting stylist, who also topped the circuit with 200 hits and 34 doubles, thus became the second youngest champion in the circuit's history. He is a month and 14 days older than Pete Reiser, who won the crown as a 22-year old Brooklyn Dodger outfielder in 1941.

Aaron's winning mark was the lowest since 1919 when Eddie Roush was crowned champion with a .321 average.

Bill Virdon, who started the season with the St. Louis Cardinals and finished it with the Pittsburgh Pirates, ranked second to Aaron with .319, followed by Roberto Clemente of the Pirates at .311 and Stan Musial of the Cardinals at .310.

Bears, Giants to Clash for Title; Lions Hit 'Deliberate Dirty Football' by Chicago

By United Press
The Chicago Bears, charged with "deliberate dirty football" by Detroit Lions, and the New York Giants, often called "too nice" by their coach, will clash for the National League championship Dec. 30 at Yankee Stadium.

It'll be the first time these old rivals have appeared in the championship game since 1946 when the Bears defeated the Giants, 24-14, at the Polo Grounds. In a meeting earlier this season, the Bears scored twice in the last seven minutes at New York to salvage a 17-17 tie.

New York won the Eastern Division crown Saturday by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles, 21-7. The Bears captured Western honors Sunday by whipping Detroit, 38-21, in a game marred by brawls after Bobby Layne of the losers was knocked cold by Ed Meadows in the second quarter.

Charges "Dirty Football"
"It was deliberate dirty football," Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions said. "He (Meadows) was the hatchman to do the job. He did it to Layne when he was with Pittsburgh last year and Meadows and Halas (Bear Owner George Halas) play it that way."

Meadows and Gil Mains of Detroit were thrown out of the game for slugging and swarms of the 49,086 fans rushed on the field to join in the fighting during the final minutes.

Layne, who led Detroit to two league and three Western Division titles in the last five years, did not return to the game. But it's doubtful if any one man could have stopped Rick Casares and the rest of the Bears Sunday in their Wrigley Field fair.

Wins Rushing Crown
Casares gained 190 of Chicago's 307 yards rushing and his 68-yard scoring run in the second period put the Bears in front to stay. Casares, who was limited to 12 yards by the Giants last month, won the league rushing crown with 1,126 yards—a season high surpassed in NFL history only by the 1,146 gained by Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1949.

In Sunday's other games, Lahan scored twice to lead the Chicago Cardinals to a 24-7 victory over the Cleveland Browns; Ted Marchbroda threw two touchdowns passes as the Pittsburgh Steelers shut out the Washington Redskins, 23-0; Norm Van Brocklin threw two scoring passes to lead the Los Angeles Rams to a 49-21 victory over the Green Bay Packers and Y. A. Tittle scored twice to pace the San Francisco Forty-Niners to a 30-17 triumph over the Baltimore Colts at San Francisco.

All the teams except the Redskins and Colts, who play Sunday at Baltimore, have completed their regular seasons.

Celtics to Sign Bill Russell

By United Press
The Boston Celtics will sign Bill Russell Wednesday and will be happy to get the All-America star because the Philadelphia Warriors are starting to run amok in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Philadelphia, division and league champion last season, made the Celtics its fourth straight victim Sunday night, 116-104, at Camden, N. J. With Paul Arizin showing the way with 31 points, the Warriors broke out of a second-place tie with the New York Knickerbockers and cut Boston's lead to 3 1/2 games.

The runnerup Minneapolis Lakers cut Rochester's Western Division lead to 1 1/2 games by defeating the Royals, 101-97. Vern Mikkelsen sank two free throws with 42 seconds to go to spark the home club to victory.

In the other games, the Fort Wayne Pistons entertained the Knickerbockers and won, 84-80, while the Syracuse Nationals defeated the visiting St. Louis Hawks 101-81.

Locals Shoot .538 from Field; Play Carbondale Here Tomorrow Night

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs showed Saturday night that there has been nothing wrong with the team that a few baskets wouldn't cure when they tomahawked the Johnston City Indians by the amazing score of 95 to 64 in the Indians' own gymnasium.

And the locals, who shot a cool 53.8 from the field in outspeeding the Indians, hope they can keep up a presentable shooting average this week, when they meet three formidable foes.

Tomorrow night the opponent will be Carbondale in Davenport gym. Friday night the Bull Dogs travel to West Frankfort for a contest with the tough Red Birds, then return home for a Saturday night

Anna Five Edges Eldorado, 55-53

The Eldorado high school basketball team continues to play good, but not winning, basketball. Saturday night marked the fourth consecutive game Eldorado played with the result determined by not more than two points. And Eldorado dropped three of the decisions.

Travelling to Anna Saturday, the Saline county team lost a two-point, 55-53. The game was close all the way with Anna holding a 15-12 quarter lead and at halftime was still in front by three points, 29-26. Then Eldorado came up with a good third period and went on top 38-37, but Anna rallied in the final frame to win 55-53.

Eldorado's run of close games started more than a week ago at Galatia, with the Eagles losing 51-49, the next outing was a two-point win for Eldorado then came a one-point loss and Saturday's decision was another close one.

Richard Overton, senior center, paced Eldorado's scoring with 18 points. Jenkins and Pitts each had 14 for Anna.

In the preliminary game Anna won 54-44.

Friday night Eldorado will be host to Carrier Mills.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. Money and Where to Get It Will Be Major Legislative Problem

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Money and where to get enough of it will be a major problem of the 1957 General Assembly, but most legislators are at least hopeful of avoiding tax increases, a United Press survey showed today.

However, Sen. Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph), who as chairman of the Budgetary Commission is perhaps closest to the situation, did not have good news for the hopeful.

"The way it looks now we are going to have to find 100 million dollars somewhere," Peters said.

He said he would rather not comment now on whether a sales tax increase would be necessary, but that "I don't know where the money is coming from or how much of the increased demands can be cut out" of the budget.

Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign), whose school problems commission will be asking for a huge increase in school appropriations, also was worried about money.

Most Are Hopeful
"I think it will be a real problem," he said. "I'm not all optimistic that it (the needed money) will be found."

Clabaugh said he would support a tax increase "if necessary."

Rep. Ora D. Dillavou (R-Champaign), also a member of the Budgetary Commission, said he wasn't convinced any new taxes would be required. "I'm certainly not sold on any tax increases yet, although it is too early to see what the total problem will be," he said.

Most legislators replying to a United Press mail poll, however, were hopeful that a tax increase, particularly in the sales and gas taxes, would not be needed.

Sen. George E. Drach (R-Springfield) said "notwithstanding the indication that more school funds are needed I do not favor any increases in the occupation taxes at this time. I hope to correct the objections of the Supreme Court to the use tax act."

Must Prove Need
Rep. A. B. McConnell (R-Woodstock) said he would not support such increases "unless there is more need than there is now."

Rep. Robert Coulson, newly elected Republican from Waukegan, said he did not believe tax increases would be needed and would not support them "unless the need is proved."

One legislator who did not identify himself did perhaps the best job of summing up the general attitude reflected in the survey. To a question of whether he would support a sales or gas tax increase, he said: "Reluctantly—but an increase may be needed."

SIX OF 17 SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY CO-EDS enrolled in an industrial education course for prospective kindergarten and primary teachers solve a last-minute toy-making problem around the Christmas tree in their classroom. The occasion was a term-ending party for department staff members and their wives. Roll Out the Carpet For Christmas Giving

The perfect gift is one that excites—and endures. It is even better when a precious gift is practical, too. Because it answers all of these specifications, a carpet or rug belongs on the gift list for any member of the family—and don't think the young ones are exempt from the pride of ownership!

The sense of luxury and comfort that carpet brings to a home is experienced all the year round. The excitement of owning a beautiful rug recurs every time a room is entered. And the quiet, warmth, safety and easy care of a carpet makes for better, more relaxed living. Here are some suggestions for putting a bright red Christmas ribbon around a rug or wall-to-wall carpet.

THE GRAND GESTURE would be wall-to-wall carpet for the living room, dining room, den, master bedroom, entrance hall and stair way or whole living area. This is from husband to wife, wife to husband, or from both "To The House."

It is easy to make this a surprise. An advance trip to a carpet dealer with rough room measurements and general specifications will narrow down choices and approximate price.

THE PERCEPTIVE TOUCH—if a husband and wife understand each others' tastes and desires, a gift that recognizes this unity is endearing. A rug in a sought-after traditional pattern, or a bold splash of a just-right color, or a distinctive modern design can be a complete wrapped-up surprise. Though bulky, it can be concealed in garage, attic, basement, behind draperies, or at a neighbor's house until time for presentation. Possibly, delivery can be arranged on date.

Consider a new rug for a teenage room. It makes for prouder entertainment of friends, at a time when pride is important. Since either girl or boy can take it with them into marriage or a first home-away-from-home, let them help decide on color and pattern. Clever investigation might decide this in advance.

Clever, too, is the thought that a quieting element like a carpet or rug, under any age of enthusiastic youth results in greater peace of mind for the whole family.

For the engaged couple, parents of both families might get together to give the two a rug of lasting quality and beauty. It is wise to choose a design that is adaptable to changes in taste and location, like one of the currently popular tweeds. A good quality rug will live through first use in an apartment to later use in den or bedroom.

For the elder people, warmth, comfort and safety are just as important as to a child. A rug for their room, or a wall-to-wall carpet—since their room is their refuge—would provide real creature comfort. If, perhaps, parents have moved to their own smaller quarters, where "big things" no longer fit, a new rug would pull together old favorite furnishings as well as new ones, and give a lift to a new life and surroundings.

Of all times of the year, Christmas is the time for the family to gather in the home—around the tree, before the fireplace, on chairs or on the floor, depending upon ages.

Carpet makes a home literally feel warmer, it looks warmer, and spells hospitality. Give it as a gift to your house.
